TWO BOYS SHOT BY COUSIN ON SUNDAY NIGHT

Two Hanover R. 5 boys were injured, one critically, when struck by bullets from a rifle allegedly fired by their cousin Sunday evening.

State police said David Byron Laughman, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar M. Laughman, Hanover R. 5, was in a critical condition in the Hanover Hospital suffering from a broken back and an injury to the liver after he was shot in the back Sunday evening about 7 o'clock with a bullet from a .22 caliber rifle bullet.

His brother, Terry Lee Laughman, 12, is in a satisfactory condition in the Hanover Hospital, suffering from a broken right arm. The injury occurred when the arm was struck by a .22 caliber bullet.

STATE POLICE CALLED

State police said the shooting occurred in the backyard at the home of Wayne Allen Harman, 13, Hanover R. 5. The Harman youth is accused by police with firing the bullets.

The Harman and Laughman youths are cousins. The homes of the children adjoin. The Harman boy is a son of Mrs. Eleanor Bankert, Hanover R. 5.

State police were notified of the shooting by the Hanover Hospital at 7 o'clock Sunday night. The officers said they could give no further details of the shooting pending further investigation.

FIGHTS APPLE TAX MEASURE

Opposition to the "apple tax" bill will be voiced in the legislature this week from the largest apple-producing county — Adams — Rep. Francis Worley said over the weekend.

Rep. Worley disclosed that he battled the administration's apple promotion program in the House Agriculture Committee which has approved the bill.

The plan calls for an active promotion of Pennsylvania apples by the Department of Agriculture and an advisory board, and for a "tax" of up to five per cent of the gross value of the crop on growers affected by the marketing orders provided for in the bill.

The county lawmaker said he is going to oppose the bill in the Republican caucus today, and will fight it on the floor of the House when it comes to a vote.

Worley claims the program "is a fraud on the people" by not promoting the apples by variety. He claims the majority of small apple growers are not for the program, "but the big boys are going to try to shove it down their throats."

"A five-member board would boss the farmers around on the marketing of their apples," the legislator from the apple county said.

Checking Up On Antibug Vapor

A state Department of Health technician today was taking air samples at the courthouse to determine whether a bug light is bugging the employees.

The basement light burns only at night and evaporates crystals which provide vapor that is supposed to keep the courthouse free of bugs. Several employees have argued that the debugging atmosphere is causing them to itch or aggravates sinus difficulties. As a result the technician, armed with a mechanical device to take air samples in the various offices, this morning toured the courthouse to see whether the bug eliminating vapor might be around in too large quantities during the day.

County Teachers' Views On Curriculum Problems Cited In '60 Institute Summary

Adams County teachers will have a second opportunity to consider who should make curriculum changes in the schools, whether there have been enough changes made in the last decade and whether "the effectiveness of the training program may suffer from too much change."

All those questions and a multitude of other questions and answers are contained in a 15-page printed book outlining the results of October's Adams-Cumberland County Teachers' Institute prepared by Dr. John D. Anderson, Fairfield, and now being distributed to the teachers throughout the two counties.

Dr. Anderson, retired teacher and school administrator, is listed as have reviewed the summary of recorders' notes received at the close of the institute and then edited the notes and assembled the report.

MORE CHANGES AHEAD

The teachers, according to the report, felt that curriculum changes should initiate with the teachers for "if the teachers are not alert in assuming initial responsibility in curriculum development they will find that changes will be made for them by pressure groups, by the government, etc." At the same time, the teachers noted that a good illustration of a curriculum addition not initiated by teachers is driver education. They ask: "What faculty member of 30 years ago, or even 20 years ago would have risked respect for sound judgment by asserting that it is the business of the public schools to teach boys and girls to drive the family car? And yet this type of training is now firmly established in the secondary school curriculum of the nation."

The book has no answer to the teachers who questioned whether sufficient changes have been made in the curriculum and whether too much change may not hurt the teaching program. The reports from the various department meetings indicate more changes are probably coming.

According to the summary, the social studies teachers agreed that "it is necessary to look far into the future for as children are educated today, they will live tomorrow" and "there is a need for educating for change and flexibility." They also felt that "children must be encouraged to think, question, inquire, differ and search for information. Abstract facts regarding places and things will take on meaning only as they are related to peoples as they solve their needs for food, clothing and shelter."

Guidance counselors brought up a question in relationship with moving subject matter from higher to lower levels, asking whether there will be danger of "placing social pressures and strain of study difficulties on the students through interfering with normal growth and development." They also said that "tests should be used in moderation and interpreted for the student and parents without giving actual scores on intelligence tests."

Find Missing Boy Asleep In Straw

Neighbors, a dozen Taneytown firemen and a Maryland state trooper from Westminster joined in a two-hour search for two-year-old John Amos Sunday evening. The search ended soon after dark when the boy was found asleep on a pile of straw in his father's barn.

The boy had accompanied his father, Calvin Amos, who lives along Baptist Rd., to the dairy barn when the father went there late in the afternoon to do the milking.

When the child could not be found later, a search was begun in which neighbors joined and then the firemen and state policeman joined.

Weary U.N. Soldiers Lay Down Arms, Leave Key Congo Port After Fighting

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Weary U. N. soldiers laid down their arms and withdrew from the key Congo port of Matadi after 24 hours of bitter street fighting with Congolese soldiers, a U. N. spokesman reported today.

Negotiations are going on with the Congolese government to get a U. N. garrison back into the town. If these break down, the United Nations is empowered to use force as a last resort, the spokesman said.

Two Sudanese U. N. soldiers — one of the 130-man garrison — are known to have been killed in the battle, which raged throughout Saturday and until noon Sunday. Thirteen other Sudanese were wounded. Twelve are missing.

CAPTAIN MISSING

A Canadian signal captain also is missing and the U. N. spokesman said there are grave fears for his safety.

Matadi is the Congo's principal supply port and without control there, the U. N. supply operation would be gravely endangered.

Trouble blew up in the hillsides town 60 miles up the Congo River when Congolese units erected road blocks to impede the movement of U. N. personnel. Two helicopters also were seized as they touched down at nearby Boma. That was on Friday.

Saturday the Congolese tried to dislodge an 11-man guard of U. N. Sudanese which had been thrown around a hillside villa used as a communications center by a Canadian signal unit.

POST SURRENDERS

The Congolese killed a Sudanese and wrecked the post.

A Canadian captain who went out to talk with the attacking Congolese was not seen again.

Vastly outnumbered and with their ammunition running low, the Canadian signal post and its Sudanese guards surrendered Saturday evening.

Elsewhere in the town, fighting went on until noon Sunday.

A five-man Danish movement control unit still is operating in the port and the Congolese have pledged not to interfere with U. N. stores stacked in Matadi's dockside warehouses.

Sunday's High Was 71 Degrees

Although the first day of spring is two weeks away, weekend temperatures gave promise that balmy weather is in the offing and Old Man Winter has thrown the worst of his wintry blasts for this season.

The high reading here on Sunday was 71 degrees, the warmest day in Gettysburg since last October 19 when the high was 82 degrees. In the interval of nearly five months, Gettysburg and Adams County went through one of the snowiest and coldest winters on record here. The low in December was 9 below zero and in January and February the mercury sank to 7 below zero.

That same span of nearly five months saw Gettysburg get a near-record 61.7 inches of snow, a total exceeded only by the record-smashing winter of 1917-18. That old record came within 1.1 inches of being tied this winter.

Youngsters playing baseball, shooting marbles or flying their first kites of the season over the weekend were another good omen that winter has come and the worst of it has gone and spring cannot be far behind.

Sunday was the warmest March 5 here in five years, Gettysburg Times weather records show.

A project to be known as the Gettysburg Brethren Service was voted into being Sunday by the official board of the Gettysburg Church of the Brethren at a special meeting at the church along the Biglerville Rd.

The purpose of the project, intended to help "desolate and needy" families, is to be able to give immediate help to families who suffer heavy losses through fire or other catastrophe.

The plan is to have available furniture, foodstuffs, household utensils and clothing available for use in emergencies.

"It is the hope that everyone in the county area will avail themselves of the opportunity to help on this project," Chairman Walter said.

"Material aid will be given, after an investigation, to anyone regardless of their color, race or creed," Mr. Foust said.

$500 DAMAGE WHEN CAR HITS POLE SUNDAY

Damage totaled approximately $500 when an eastbound car left the Fairfield Rd. at W. Middle St. and crashed into a telephone pole atop Seminary Ridge at 2:45 o'clock Sunday morning.

Borough police said the car was operated by Galen Kemp Stonesifer, Taneytown, who apparently crawled from the wreckage uninjured.

Borough Officers Clarence Cluck and Paul B. Shearer, arriving at the scene after being notified by residents of the area of the accident, found no one in the wrecked car.

Investigating, they found an owner's card made out to Galen Kemp Stonesifer, Fairground Ave., Taneytown, but found no trace of the owner or driver.

TO FACE CHARGE

Police directed the car be towed away to Swope's service station, Carlisle St., where attendants said damage was about $400.

United Telephone workmen, called to the scene, said damage to the pole and guy wires was estimated at $100 but said the crash did not cause any discontinuance of services to residents of the area.

Stonesifer appeared in the borough police office about 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning to report that his car had struck the pole. Police on duty at that time told him he could expect a notice from a local justice of the peace in due course of a charge to be brought against him as a result of the accident.

Woman Wins On Low Heels

NORWICH, Conn. (AP)—Judith Elwell went back to her job in the Department of Public Utilities today, wearing low heels.

It was a compromise of sorts in her battle with her employer, who has banned certain items of apparel such as leotards, slacks, bobby socks, ballet slippers, moccasins "and other shoes without heels."

Mrs. Elwell, armed with a doctor's certificate, was permitted to return to work in low heel shoes.

Manager Philip L. White issued his edict aimed at ending what he called the "sloppy appearance of female employees," and Mrs. Elwell complied for a while but then came to her typing job in flat shoes.

She was suspended last Monday. She appealed the suspension to the City Pension Board.

A heavy woman, Mrs. Elwell told the board at a hearing Saturday that she preferred low heels not only because of her weight but because she is expecting a child.

While permitting Mrs. Elwell to wear flat shoes if she brought a doctor's recommendation to do so the board upheld White's right to issue the no-sloppiness order.

DOUBLE CRASH AT CROSS KEYS IN HEAVY FOG

Slippery highways and fog led to a double accident at Cross Keys about midnight Saturday. Two persons were injured in the crashes, neither seriously.

State police said the first accident occurred at 11:50 o'clock Saturday night.

According to the officers, a tractor-trailer operated by Herbert Frederick Von Lindenberg, 35, Glenn Burnie, Md., was traveling north on the Hanover-Carlisle Rd.

When the truck came to the intersection with the Lincoln Highway, Von Lindenberg attempted to stop, according to police, but his vehicle skidded into the intersection and struck an eastbound car operated by Lacey F. Terry, 48, York. Terry's car, after the impact, bounced into the west-bound lane of the Lincoln Highway and collided with an auto operated by Lawrence C. Bevenour, 53, of 118 N. Peters St., New Oxford. Damage to Bevenour's car was estimated at $125 and to the truck at $150.

SECOND CRASH

Terry suffered a contusion of the left shoulder in the accident. Police said the Terry car came to rest at the conclusion of the accident approximately in the center of the intersection.

State police were summoned and had begun their investigation when at 12:35 o'clock Sunday morning Paul Krout, 46, Thomasville, driving east on the Lincoln Highway failed to see the halted car and the left front of his car struck the left rear of Terry's vehicle. Damage to Krout's auto was estimated at $250. Mrs. Anna Krout, Thomasville, an occupant of the right front seat of the Krout car, suffered a bruised left knee in the crash. A heavy fog hung over the intersection at the time.

Damage to the Terry car in the double accident was estimated at $2,950. The first accident ripped the side, the second damaged the rear of the 1961 auto.

AMBULANCE ON 2 LONG TRIPS

The Gettysburg firemen's ambulance had a busy weekend, including two long distance trips.

Sunday after the local ambulance moved Sister Rose Marie Conrad, second grade teacher at St. Francis Xavier Catholic School here, from the hospital in Lancaster to Mercy Crest, the Sisters of Mercy home at Harrisburg. The ambulance crew reported that the local nun who suffered a broken hip in a fall between the local convent and school is now able to move about on crutches, but will be unable to put weight on her leg for three months.

Later Sunday afternoon, about 5:30 o'clock, the local ambulance took Mrs. Stanley Peer, from White's Motel to Toronto, Canada. Raymond Menges and James Poland, the crew for the trip, expect to return this evening. Mr. Peer, who left his car here, will return with the ambulance crew.

Mr. and Mrs. Peer had reached Gettysburg on a trip when Mrs. Peer became ill. At first it was planned to have relatives drive from Canada to pick up the couple, but later it was decided to use the ambulance because of Mrs. Peer's illness. Mr. Peer paid $225, in cash when the ambulance arrived, to cover the cost of the trip.

Around The Town

Attorney Gerald Walmer and Attorney Oscar Spicer are congratulating themselves on their recent "conversation."

The client of one brought suit before a justice of the peace against the client of the other. The two young attorneys arrived at the justice's office on the date set and presented full cases complete with interrogation and cross examination of witnesses for both sides, frequent objections from both attorneys as to what the other was doing and finally full arguments by both attorneys on the positions of their sides before the justice.

Both left pleased with the case he had presented and impressed with the skill shown by his opponent.

Their pleasure faded, however, when the justice called the two and asked when the hearing was to be held. Both protested, "Wasn't that the hearing?" They found out from the justice that it wasn't.

and other printed material to an "Instructional Materials Center" providing a variety of material, both book and audio-visual, for use by teachers and students as individuals and in groups. They also held "it is the responsibility of the school library to anticipate curriculum changes."

IMPORTANCE OF ART

Art teachers agreed that art should be mandatory in the Seventh and Eighth Grades and be made elective thereafter. They added "Students should be allowed to enroll even though they may lack aptitude. Art should not be relegated to co-curricular status. It has meaning in the total growth of the student."

The reading teachers observed that "an uneasy feeling has been given in the area of reading to many parents, teachers and pupils, despite the strides in improvement that have been made. Certainly this phase of the public school program is on the upgrade."

English teachers suggested "a student secretary assigned to each English teacher to relieve her of some burdensome tasks." They held the certification requirements for both English majors and minors should be more stringent. Courses in composition, journalism and world literature should be offered as electives to accelerated groups."

A MOOT QUESTION

Foreign language teachers after much discussion came to the conclusion the "grade placement of foreign language study and the approach to be made is still a moot question." They suggested a joint association of foreign language teachers in Adams and Cumberland Counties "to provide for better coordination of the language problem."

Senior high school teachers said that "much thought should be given to an accelerated program before it is introduced." They held, "before such an accelerated program is decided upon there should be a sufficient number of eligible students. A complete program of acceleration through Grade 12 should be planned in advance" and "provision should be made for those who are unable to complete the program."

Concerning mathematics, the high school teachers agreed "there is need for developing more suitable mathematics program for non-academic pupils. All schools require at least one year of mathematics of this group. The courses, however, continue to be traditional in nature."

DUTY ON TEACHERS

Science teachers felt they have a duty "to develop in the student creative thinking, to give better leadership to the student and insist on higher standards in and out of the classroom, and to motivate the student causing him to want to achieve in science."

Social science teachers urged among other things that they strive to develop in the student "a sense of continuity in history" and encourage more able students to do research.

The agriculture teachers believed an advisory group of interested citizens in each district should determine the aims and goals of agricultural education in the public schools.

Business education teachers called for more visits to business places so the students can see what is needed and used in offices. The driver education teachers felt "the school should promote community safety programs."

"PHYS ED" PLEA

Home economics teachers called for adjustment of the homemaking program because the population is growing older and more housewives have "joined the payrolls." They added: "The home economics program should include management of time and energy, family relationships including all age groups, how to retain family unity, how to attain cooperation of the complete family in homemaking and to establish proper and satisfying values." Industrial arts teachers raised five questions but found no satisfactory answers. The questions: "Is there any guarantee as to the outcome of shop training? For

NEW USES FOR MICROWAVES OPENING FAST

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Bouncing phone calls off space balloons, throwing a railroad switch miles away, or beaming data between computers far apart is done with tiny radio waves.

These and many other uses of microwaves are opening up fast now for all kinds of private business. A race is on among electronic equipment makers for the growing market.

The microwave industry already had been booming while sales were mostly limited to government defense and space projects and to the communications industry.

GIVEN GO-AHEAD

Equipment makers say annual sales are around $2 billion and just hitting their stride in the earthbound phase of the business. Space balloons or satellites could increase microwave usage and range many fold, both for public or private communication.

Private business got a go-ahead signal last fall when the Federal Communications Commission relaxed licensing of microwave systems.

"Microwaves will grow along with communication, automation, computers and central data processing," says Henry Feldman, head of FXR Inc., which began turning out equipment and testing instruments in 1944 in Woodside, N. Y. It expanded its plant in 1959 and again in 1960 and now is doubling its present size.

GROWING FACTOR

"Microwaves are a growing factor in those twins of modern business, communication and control, whether reporting a hotbox on a rail car or turning a valve in an oil refinery," he adds. His firm specializes in precision devices to tell just what microwaves are doing as they vibrate a billion times a second.

In the field of space both American Telephone & Telegraph and Radio Corporation of America are offering their own projects to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

These involve either a string of satellites to be used in turn by ground stations as they pass by, or a few that are stationary in the sense of orbiting at the same speed at which the earth moves. At present the balloon Echo I is being used for transcontinental conversations.

On the earth about 30 per cent of cross country phone calls already travel by microwave repeaters.

VERY NARROW BEAM

And Western Union is putting millions of dollars into a system of reflector towers that can carry 2.4 million words a minute in either direction.

The microwave, on frequencies of 1,000 to 20,000 megacycles, takes a very narrow beam that can be aimed precisely at small targets. Speech is imposed upon "carrier" waves flashed like light from one reflector tower to the next. At their destination the beams are reconverted into speech. Thousands of microwave messages can be carried in the space allotted to an ordinary radio channel.

MAY BE ECONOMICAL

Private businesses using the system are railroads, pipelines, utilities, turnpikes (for traffic control), TV stations, truck lines, orange growers, paper producers, airports and missile makers.

By opening blocks of new microwave frequencies to private users, the FCC is in effect offering business firms the chance to set up their own private lines in the sky. But this is more economical than leased telephone lines only if they have enough usage to equal five or more such voice channels.

what should the students be trained in the shop? Should the industrial arts department try to keep pace with the missile race? What persons are responsible for the program development?"

Only one group of teachers seemed to have difficulty in establishing itself. The physical education teachers raised the question: "How do we get the administration to back physical education?" They pleaded that "in preparing students' weekly schedules the assignments to physical education classes should not be delayed until all other assignments are made" and "intramural or varsity athletics should not replace physical education."

NBA Positions Are Nearly All Decided

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The only spot left to be decided in the National Basketball Association today was the Western Division cellar.

Cincinnati, which has been hot for the past month, and Detroit are the two teams in the running and it might not be settled until the final game of the season.

The Royals pushed ahead of the Pistons Sunday by defeating the New York Knickerbockers 124-118 in a nationally televised game and now are a half-game up on Detroit in the battle for the West's third playoff berth. The St. Louis Hawks whipped the Pistons, 127-122.

Los Angeles nailed at least a tie for second place in the Western Division by downing Syracuse 125-114. The Boston Celtics, Eastern Division winners, humbled the Philadelphia Warriors 146-129.

LIFE OR DEATH DECISION TO BE MADE TODAY

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A jury reconvenes today to decide whether Robert B. Dalton must die or serve life in prison for the bludgeoning of his aged benefactor.

The jury Sunday night convicted Dalton of first-degree murder in the death of John R. Larendon, 86, retired New York City ships stores merchant.

Larendon, who died Dec. 7, had willed Dalton his entire $600,000 estate. Police said Dalton, the elderly man's secretary-companion since 1949, fatally beat Larendon in their $100,000 home in suburban La Jolla Nov. 20, 1960.

BLAMED BURGLAR

Dalton, 39, claimed a burglar must have done it. He said clothing and liquor were stolen.

Under California law the same jury, seven women and five men, will now decree the penalty. It could send him to the San Quentin Prison gas chamber.

Dalton and his employer moved to La Jolla from New York in 1957. Dalton, tall and slender, with graying blond hair, testified he awoke about 7 p.m. Nov. 20 and found Larendon "in a bloody mess sitting in his chair."

Larendon had a fractured ankle and was blood-spattered from head and face wounds. The coroner's pathologist testified at the trial that he died of a brain hemorrhage resulting from a head blow. Police say he apparently never realized what had happened to him.

The Biblical talent, in terms of present-day money, was worth about $6,000.

JOHN J. KANE DIES; WAS BIG POLITICIAN

PITTSBURGH (AP) — John J. Kane, a giant in Pittsburgh area politics for more than 29 years, is dead.

The 70-year-old former Allegheny County commissioner and one-time member of the State Legislature passed away Sunday at a nursing home in New Brighton, about 35 miles west of Pittsburgh.

The cause of his death was listed as a cerebral thrombosis stemming from Parkinson's disease.

Kane spent 24 years as a member of the county's board of commissioners before ill health forced him to step out of the political scene last year.

TURNED OFFERS DOWN

Often during his tenure he was urged by his friends in the Democratic party to run for governor of Pennsylvania, mayor of Pittsburgh or U.S. senator.

But he always turned them down, claiming the work of a county commissioner was what he loved best.

Kane crashed the national political scene in 1944 as one of the first to back Harry S. Truman for the vice-presidency. Despite vicious opposition, Kane maintained Truman should replace Henry Wallace as running mate with President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Kane made the seconding speech for Truman at the 1944 Democratic convention.

AGAIN SUPPORTED TRUMAN

He also threw his support behind Truman in 1948 when Truman made a successful bid for the presidency. Later he turned down an offer to serve in Truman's cabinet.

The year 1931 marked the beginning of Kane's political career. He was elected that year to a two-year term in the State Legislature.

In 1933, he was named to Pittsburgh's city council and three years later he started his long regime on the board of commissioners — most of the time as commission chairman.

A solemn high mass of requiem will be sung Wednesday for the Pittsburgh native at the St. Pius X Roman Catholic Church in nearby Brookline.

JFK HELD UP BY BLONDE BUT NOT FOR LONG

WASHINGTON (AP) — A pistol-packing blonde held up the President of the United States, but no one seemed to mind, especially Washington newsmen and photographers.

Packing the pistol Sunday was Caroline Kennedy, 3. She had it with her as she and the President rode from the White House on a warm, springlike morning.

President Kennedy was on his way to church; Caroline was on her way to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Smith, her uncle and aunt. Mrs. Smith is the President's sister, Jean.

After Mass, the chief executive drove by the Smith's house to pick up Caroline. Down the steps she pranced, wearing a light blue jumper suit, red coat, a clip in her blonde hair.

The toy six shooter was still in one hand. Ever the lady, in the other she carried a little purse.

"Hello there," a woman reporter called out.

With a friendly smile, Caroline countered, "What's your name?" "Helen. What's yours?"

"Caroline," the blonde replied. Then, from the long, black White house limousine came the President's voice: "Come on, Caroline."

Caroline came on. You can hold up the President of the United States just so long.

REFUELING PLANE KILLS 9 IN CRASH

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — An Air Force KB50 refueling airplane crashed just short of a Biggs Air Force Base runway Sunday night killing all nine men aboard.

The six-engine craft crashed with a tremendous explosion in an unpopulated area two to three miles northeast of a runway at the base.

The plane was one of six returning from a routine refueling mission in the Pacific.

The wreckage was scattered over a half mile area.

An official Air Force inquiry was started to determine why the airplane crashed. The Air Force withheld the names of the seven crew members and two maintenance men on the plane.

Base officials said the pilot had asked the Biggs tower for landing instructions just prior to the crash. The pilot reported no trouble.

A red flash was seen by one witness 30 miles away from the crash site, eight miles northeast of El Paso and near the New Mexico-Texas line.

The plane was assigned to the 431st Air Refueling Squadron at Biggs and was based there as a tenant craft attached to the Tactical Air Command. The KB50 is a modification of the B29 of World War II fame. It is used for refueling of jet fighters attached to the TAC.

The Secretary of War has pub-country, in having surrendered, on the demand of the authorities

Today's Talk

THE LIFE YOU LIVE

What you are is so much greater than what you do.The spirit in which you work, the plan that you keep locked within your heart, the love of beautiful things, the touch of wealth which you place in those in whom you believe, and who are dear to you in return—do not these things enrich life?You work and earn a salary.
You buy with some of your money
a beautiful gem, or a painting, or some lovely work of art. But it wasn't the money after all that did that buying. It was your love of the beautiful.Edward Bok, editor and author, made quite an extraordinary statement and one worth remembering in one of his books,
"The Man from Maine." It was this: "The three really great things in the world are a mountain, the ocean—and an earnest man at his work."The one great curse of life is mediocrity.To desire nothing beyond the ordinary, to be satisfied to float with the stream, to sit, or walk, or even work in part idleness and not to strive continually for something better and something higher and happier, is to drop partly out of life itself.The life you live is your idea of beauty, the world, and your estimate of human character.Never have "nothing to do."
Keep planning ahead and keep living ahead. What you do right now is a spark of the bigger thing that you shall do tomorrow.Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Lonesomeness"

GROWING UP TO THINGS

In days of old, when I needed clothes,They'd take me to the store,
And they'd fit me out with a garment stout
To do for a year or more.They did not buy in those olden daysWith a mind to the latest style,
And they cared not a bit for the thing called fit;They bought for a good long while.Though the sleeves were long and the coat was wide,
And the pants too wide round
here,They whispered low: "The boy will grow!
And they'll fit in another year."My boyhood days were free from style;And now my memory brings A picture glad of an awkward lad

Who was growing up to things.

But times have changed and the boys todayIn the latest style are dressed,
And they'd make a fuss were they asked, like us,

To grow to a coat and vest.

For World PeacePope Benedict XV (1854-1922) was born near Genoa and was the successor of Pius X and predecessor of Pius XI. He was made archbishop of Bologna in 1907 and a cardinal in 1914, two months before his election as Pope. In World War I he founded the Vatican service for prisoners of war. France and England resumed diplomatic relations with the Holy See during his pontifi-cate.DISMAYED by the strife and jealousy which are bringing ruin to peoples and nations, we turn, O Jesus, to Thy most loving Heart as our only hope. O God of mercy, with tears we invoke Thee to end wars and the horror of war. O King of Peace, we humbly implore the peace for which we long. . . .Inspire rulers and peoples with counsels of meekness. Heal the discord that tear nations asunder. Thou Who didst shed Thy precious blood that they may live as brothers, bring men together once more in loving harmony. To the cry of the Apostle Peter: "Save us, Lord, we perish." Thou didst answer words of mercy and didst still the raging waves. Design now to hear our trustful prayers and give back to the world order and peace.And do Thou, O most Holy Virgin, as in other times of distress, be

ON TV SERIESBy BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV WriterHOLLYWOOD (AP)—Chuck Connors is laying down his rifle for a tomahawk.After playing "The Rifleman" with huge success on TV for three years, the towering ex-ballplayer is going to star in "Geronimo" for a feature movie. He'll play the big chief.How come?
"I've been wanting to do a movie," he explained. "I've had some offers, but they always wanted me to play the same kind of character as Lucas McCain (the rifleman). So I turned the pictures down, including 'The Alamo.' People see me for free every week as Lucas; why would they pay to see me in the same type of role?"

EAGER FOR CHANCE

"When the idea to play Geronimo came along, I jumped at it.
The role is a complete reverse; I won't even look the same. Instead of a fair-skinned blond, I'll be

FIREMEN RESCUE FISH

NORTON, Va. (AP)—Volunteer firemen are used to rescuing people from burning buildings and cats from tall trees. But they ran into a new one when they were called on to have the lives of 1,000 fish.The fish were being transported from the hatchery at nearby Marion when the tanker truck sprung a leak and went dry. Responding to a rush call, the firemen refilled the tank from a fire hydrant and not a fish died.

them to shine their shoes with.
They don't smoke in bed, either."$750,000. If it succeeds, the way might be paved for more TV conwas made by Paramount 20 years

Cincinnati May Be Team To Beat Ohio State In Playoffs; Both Win Conference Titles

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer
If any team has a chance of knocking off champion Ohio State in the National Collegiate (NCAA) basketball tournament, it may be a neighbor—red-hot Cincinnati.

Ohio State has a 28-game winning streak going, counting five at the end of last season. Cincinnati, recovering from the loss by graduation of Oscar (Big O) Robertson, has won 18 straight and acts as if it has no idea of quitting.

Both the Ohio teams clinched undisputed conference championships over the weekend, officially qualifying for spots in the NCAA championships. The draw puts them in opposite brackets. If they keep winning their streaks won't collide until the tournament final at Kansas City March 25.

NOT QUITE COMPLETE

The fields for the two big post-season events—the NCAA, the of college title tournament, and the National Invitation opening March 16 at Madison Square Garden—are almost but not quite complete.

At least seven and possibly eight teams are yet to be determined for the sprawling NCAA, which gets its regional eliminations under way March 14. Three teams are yet to be officially chosen for the 12-team NIT.

Already in the NIT are Memphis State, Providence, DePaul, Detroit, Army Miami (Fla.), Dayton, Temple and Niagara.

WAIT TILL SATURDAY

The NIT must wait until next Saturday for its Skyline representative. That's when Utah and Colorado State meet at Provo, Utah in a playoff for the conference crown and attendant NCAA berth. Colorado State forced the playoff by upsetting Utah Saturday night 57-49.

Eastern Kentucky's 67-54 upset of Morehead tossed the Ohio Valley race into a three-way snarl which must be unraveled by a playoff. Eastern and Morehead play again tonight, the winner meeting Western Kentucky Wednesday for the championship.

Kentucky and Vanderbilt clash Thursday night at Knoxville to determine which carries the Southeastern Conference banner into the NCAA. They tied for second place behind Mississippi State, which is passing up the tournament because of an unwritten state law against competition with Negroes.

GW VICTORIES

Loyola can clinch the West Coast Athletic Conference title by beating Pepperdine Tuesday. New Mexico State can tie Arizona State for the Border Conference crown by beating Hardin-Simmons tonight.

Ohio State won the Big Ten championship by beating Michigan State 91-83 while its chief challenger, Iowa, fell before Indiana 78-69.

Cincinnati's 18th straight victim was Marshall 69-57 and this also was the team's 23rd victory in 26 games.

There were at least two surprise additions to the NCAA list over the weekend, both the result of tournament wins. George Washington, a team which had a 6-16 regular season record, climaxed a 3-game sweep through the Southern Conference tournament by beating William & Mary in the final 93-82. Wake Forest, beaten 10 times, routed Duke 96-81 for the Atlantic Coast Conference title.

Pinceton gained an NCAA tournament berth by beating Harvard 71-59, thus clinching the Ivy League championship. Southern California won the Big Five by thumping Stanford 79-61 while UCLA upset Washington 84-68.

Beagle Hounds Wins 3rd Places

Wolf Hill Fannie won third place in the 13-inch class and Wolf Hill Timmy took third place in the 15-inch class at field trials held Saturday at the Farmers' Beagle Club grounds. Both dogs are owned by John A. Olson, R. 5.

The trials were part of the Atlantic Association derbies.

MIKE PACILIO REGAINS M-A MAT HONORS

Mike Pacilio, Senior from Merick, N. Y., is the new heavyweight champion of the Middle Atlantic Conference after competing in a successful two-day wrestling tournament over the weekend at Moravian College.

Pacilio, one of the finest wrestlers in the history of Gettysburg College, breezed through his four matches, taking three via decisions to recapture the crown he once held as a Sophomore. Pacilio was unable to defend his title last year because of a shoulder injury but this year was in perfect condition.

The new heavyweight champion won both of his matches on Friday as he defeated Ed Wight, Bucknell, and pinned Lebanon Valley's Joe Stauffer. Pacilio came right back Saturday morning and defeated Joe Confer of Lycoming to make him eligible for the finals Saturday night. In the final round, the 190-pound grappler defeated Bob Abele of Ursinus to end the new crown.

WILKES TAKES TITLE
As a team, Jack Ridinger's slim squad of four members finished seventh out of 18 schools with a total of 20 points. Wilkes won the overall championship at it rolled up 78 points followed closely by Lycoming with 75. Hofstra came through with 46 and Moravian's host team finished fourth with 43 credits. Finishing in front of the Bullets was Ursinus with 26 points and Bucknell edged the Orange and Blue with 21 titles.

Gettysburg's remaining points came on a fourth-place finish by John Young, Junior from Shamokin, in the 177-pound class. Young defeated Bill Longreen of Lebanon Valley in his first bout but was defeated by Bill Kuntz,elman, Ursinus, in the second match. Kuntzelman continued his winning streak which enabled Young to remain in the competition. Young went on to defeat Wilkins of Moravian and enter the finals on a default. In the final consolation bout, Bob Jones, Lycoming, defeated Young 3-0 to give the Bullet wrestler his fourth-place finish.

Bob Girvan and Joe Wang, Gettysburg 147 and 167-pound wrestlers, were eliminated in Friday's matches. Both men drew stiff competition and former MAC titlists.

During the regular season and MAC tourney, Pacilio has faced nine opponents and has won all nine bouts for a clean slate. Three of Pacilio's victories came by way of pins.

Art Miller Will Seek Third Place
Art Miller, 133, Biglerville High School wrestler, despite losing in the finals of the District 3 PIAA wrestling meet at Central Dauphin High School Saturday evening, will go to Langhorne next Saturday for the Southeastern regionals to seek a third place.

Miller won his semifinals on Saturday by decisioning Glenn Kime, Newport, 3-0, before bowing to Pete Martin, Lancaster, in the finals 10-2.

Two other Canner entries bowed out in the semifinals on Saturday. Bill Stoner, 112, lost a 3-0 decision to Clyde Cressler, Newport, and Carl Hess, 154, was defeated by Don DeWalt, Boiling Springs.

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — Beaten in all three of its starts, the defending champion United States team was virtually eliminated from the World Ice Hockey Tournament today.

Canada and Russia, two teams with completely contrasting styles were the favorites to battle it out for the title.

The United States has lost to both. The Russians clobbered the Yanks, 13-2, and Sunday, the Canadians whipped them, 7-4. Russia stayed even with Canada — each with a 3-0 record in group A — by routing Finland, 7-3.

Czechoslovakia also is tied with Canada and Russia with a 3-0 mark, good for six points. But the Czechs haven't played either of the favorites yet.

SPRINGDALE, UNIONTOWN TO PLAY MARCH 9

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

They are separating the kings from the would-be champs in Pennsylvania scholastic basketball ranks. And "dark horse" Springdale High still is scrapping with the best of them.

The Dynamos, undefeated in WPIAL competition, face their big test Thursday at the Pitt Field House against Uniontown, rated the favorite to take the WPIAL Class A championship.

Jack Derlink, rebounding furiously and scoring 27 points, led Springdale past Wilksburg, 67-62, in a hard-fought game at the Field House Saturday night. The winners put on a strong third period rally to break a 33-33 half-time tie and outscore Wilksburg, 20-10.

Elsewhere Saturday night, Hickory Twp. eliminated Meadville, 55-50, in a District 10, Class A semifinal at Farrell. Fred Greene's 19-point spree was tops for the victors.

Hickory faces Erie Tech Saturday at Farrell for the district title. In a District 6 Class A playoff at Portage, Cambria Heights started early and piled up a big lead to win easily 45-29, over Westmont. The Highlanders will meet defending champion Johnstown in a district semifinal Tuesday. The Westmont win was their 22nd in 24 games.

In a game at Meadville, Jim Patterson and Jerry Babbitt combined for 36 points as Cochranon whipped defending champion West Middlesex, 52-44, in a PIAA District 10 Class B first round contest.

READING WINS
In Class C competition, defending District 4 champion Trevorton defeated Sonestown, 61-48, in a first round elimination.

In a Class B first round District 1 game, Downingtown won over Kennett Square, 61-59.

In the east, Reading squeezed past defending champ York, 45-44, to win the second half title in the Central Penn League. The victory gave Reading, the first half winner also, the all-season prize and a right to represent the circuit in the Class A District 3 playoffs.

Weiss Wins Three Gymnastic Events
ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Greg Weiss won the individual championship and three separate events Saturday and his Penn State teammates won two other events to dominate the Eastern Intercollegiate Gymnastics meet.

In repeating as individual champion, the 5-7 junior from Ridgefield, N. J., totaled 534½ points. He won the parallel bars, still rings and long horse competitions and finished second to Temple's Bob Smith on the horizontal bars.

Other State winners were Jerry Schafer on the flying rings and Tom Seward in the free exercise. There was no team scoring.

The Lakers, Warriors and Eagles moved out in front of the Junior Optimist Basketball League by notching their second consecutive victories in games played last Saturday on the high school gymnasium.

Eric Maitland paced the Warriors to their win by scoring 11 points. The Celtics scoring was spread among five players. The Lakers provided a well balanced attack as six men broke in the scoring column, led by Ron Newman with seven points. The Globetrotters thus lost their first game.

The Eagles swamped the Bullets 19 to 7 as Ken Weikert hit for nine points. In the Royals-Hawks tilt, little Al Comellotti notched all his team's 11 points but it wasn't enough as the Hawks dropped a 13 to 11 decision to the Royals. The Royals' scoring was well spread, as six men swished the nets.

ST. FRANCIS WINS; ENTERS YORK TOURNEY

The St. Francis Xavier School cagers (14-3) closed out a highly successful season with a fine team performance in walloping St. Vincent 48-23 on the Delone floor at McSherrystown Sunday afternoon.

St. Francis will now participate for the second straight year in the CYO Parochial League invitational tournament at York which opens Thursday and runs through Saturday. Last year the Red Raiders finished second in the tournament, bowing to St. James of Steelton in the championship game.

With the entire starting outfit hitting consistently, Coach Cal Lovett's charges jumped to an early lead and extended their margin to 23-9 at half time. The closest St. Vincent's came in the last half was 10 points. Dave Knox and John Keller tabbed 15; and 14 points, respectively, to lead the Raiders.

Mike Baker sank one of two free throws in the overtime to give the St. Francis Fifth and Sixth Grade team a 19-13 victory in the preliminary. Baker topped all scorers with 15 tallies.

Clockmakers' New Exhibit At York Historical Society

York County clockmakers are the subject of the newest exhibit at the museum of the Historical Society of York County, York. The exhibit represents considerable research in a subject which has interested many persons, particularly the owners of the valuable clocks.

The exhibit is arranged in three sections. One panel tells how the 56 known York County clockmakers were and where they practiced their craft from colonial times to 1850. Clock works, loaned indefinitely for the exhibit by W. Earle Fulton, York, graphically show why clockmaking declined in this area. Wooden works, meticulously made by hand by York County clockmakers, are shown side-by-side with the stamped brass products of New England factories of the early 1800's.

HANOVER RIVALED YORK

As a clockmaking center, Hanover rivaled York in number of craftsmen in proportion to the population of each town and in quality of the finished product. Although Hanover had a much smaller population than York throughout the period, the former town can claim 12 active, skilled clockmakers who produced clocks in a wide area. Many Hanover-made clocks were immediately sold or found their way into western Maryland and Virginia where they can be found today. York can boast 27 clockmakers. The remainder of the county, which before 1800 included Gettysburg and Adams County, had 12 clockmakers working during the century from 1750 to 1850. The location of the shops of several clockmakers are unknown, only their work survives.

TOOLS BEFORE CLOCKS

Before the clockmaker could set himself up in business he had to make the tools of his trade by hand. In many cases he invented tools to help him perform intricate tasks. With raw materials the clockmaker had to become his own woodworker, brass and iron founder and painter with tools he developed himself. From the collections of Earl T. Strickler, of Columbia, secretary and editor of the National Association of Watch and Clock Collectors, have come many of the handmade tools for this exhibit. Demonstrating the resourcefulness of the early clockmakers, these tools are a living testimonial to expert craftsmanship.

CLOCKMAKERS' VERSATILITY

Clockmakers utilized other sciences and crafts in their work. Every clockmaker had to be a mathematician and astronomer of no mean ability because many of his clocks were constructed to tell the day of the month and the phases of the moon. Most clockmakers designed and executed the magnificent cases which are so prized today, making the clockmaker a cabinetmaker as well.

A clock dial, recently executed by William S. Stair, of York, demonstrates the drafting and artistic abilities each clockmaker had to possess. Many clockmakers were watch repairmen and at least seven made watches as well. Phineas Davis, who later invented

SAYS OMNIBUS WAS 'THICK,' 'VERY FAR OUT'

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—"Omnibus," stubbornly dedicated to lifting the TV viewers' sights—well, anyway, the sight of the late Sunday afternoon TV viewers—exposed us to some examples of avant garde, or far out, dramatic fare Sunday.

William Saroyan, a playwright who a few years ago was considered pretty far out himself, was along as a necessary guide for the uninitiated. This was a scene from his own "The Time of Your Life" (1939). It was followed by a rewrite of the scene as it would have been handled by a young playwright today.

The 1939 scene was warm and cozy with happy-go-lucky Joe explaining his harmless philosophy of life to Mary. The 1961 version was also cozy but cold with a nervous Joe and a frenetic Mary yearning to talk to each other but not quite able to achieve communication.

GOT THICKER

But after that, "Omnibus" got a bit thick. "The Killer" by Eugene Ionesco in which a middle-aged man, confronted by a horrible creature with a maniacal giggle, was trying frantically to avoid death. At the end, the killer

America's first coal-burning locomotive and ironclad steamboat, constructed a miniature watch which was accepted at the time by the British Museum as a "curiosity." A Lewis Miller sketch of that date shows Davis constructing the watch.

12 WERE SILVERSMITHS

In addition to this at least 12 York County clockmakers were silversmiths, one a jeweler and another (Lewis Michael) made and repaired surveying instruments. Examples of each additional craft as executed by clockmakers are exhibited.

The purpose of the exhibit, part of the series telling "The York County Story," is visually to portray two little known facts: 1, Pennsylvania, including York County, was one of the two important seats of clockmaking until the craft became a factory production in the first quarter of the 19th century, and 2, York County's clockmakers, many whose descendants are still living in the area, were some of the most versatile and accomplished craftsmen in early America.

The exhibit can be seen during regular museum hours, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays and during special openings.

Buying a USED CAR?

Timely Tips That Can Help Protect Your Investment!

1. Choose your dealer carefully.
2. Buy only from a well established reputable dealer.
3. Buy only from a dealer who maintains his own adequate facilities to service the car you buy.
4. Insist on a WARRANTY in writing that can be "backed-up."
5. BUYING from a NEW CAR DEALER IS YOUR BEST BET. . . Most new car dealers sell locally owned trade-ins, not Used Cars obtained from Auto Auctions or distress merchandise from large cities.
6. Insist on knowing where the Used Car came from. "Ask who was the previous owner." Most new car dealers will be happy to tell you and invite you to contact the previous owner.
7. New Cars bought from Used Car Dealers . . . REMEMBER, only the New Car Dealer is authorized to extend a FACTORY WARRANTY to a buyer, NO ONE ELSE.

STARTING TO PICK JURY AT FORT PIERCE

FORT PIERCE, Fla. (AP) — The tedious task of choosing a jury for the Chillingworth murder trial starts this morning. It could drone on for two days or longer in the rickety, 52-year-old St. Lucie County courthouse.

198 prospective jurors, all men. They alone were enough to pack the tiny courtroom where the sensational case will be heard on a change of venue from Palm Beach County.

The 12 who are selected will determine the fate of Joseph A.

Peel Jr., who is charged with handing down an underworld death sentence for Circuit Judge C. E. Chillingworth, 59.

Chillingworth, one of Florida's most respected jurists, and his wife, Marjorie, a leader of West Palm Beach civic and social circles, disappeared the night of June 15, 1955.

A relentless investigation spanning more than five years was climaxed with the arrest of Peel, once a promising attorney, on a charge that he hired two assassins to kidnap Chillingworth from his home and drown him in the Atlantic Ocean.

Boyd A. (Lucky) Holzapfel, a notorious hoodlum, and George (Bobby) Lincoln, a Negro moonshiner, confessed they did the job and claimed that it was on Peel's orders. They killed Mrs. Chilling-worth, too, they said, because "we didn't want any witnesses."

They said Peel, 37, a city judge in West Palm Beach at the time, was operating a liquor and gambling protection racket and believed that Chillingworth planned to expose him.
